

Smartline is working with Cornish enterprises to develop the next generation of smart technology to improve wellbeing in the homes of the future, based on the needs of the households and the data collected from a digitally connected community amongst 300 households within Camborne.

Pool, Redruth and Illingan.

Smartline br intentisciplinary team of epidemiologists, economists, geographers, mathematicians and seclologists exploring the potential for business in